By debbie carlin April 30, 2017

"I've been following the Marian apparitions since I was seven years old, when I brought a children's book home from the library on the Miracle at Fatima. Bruce Cyr put it all together. I, too, like Pope John Paul II, am all Hers and I cheer Her on in Her task to crush the head of the serpent. Much of what he reports, is the same information I have received in meditation. It's how I can tell this information is authentic. My dates differ, but I don't think you should really put definitive dates on predictions or prophecies. Mary and the Visionaries know the dates. Watch for their announcements. I congratulate Bruce Cyr on this work, for he had to go deep inside to be able to put this all together. This is a very well-researched work.

Pray for all of us in the Americas. ...And remember the monastery in Hiroshima who were doing what Mary told them; "say the Rosary and read Scripture every day, fast on Wednesdays and Fridays on bread and water, go to Mass once a week and receive Communion." (Especially in America, bring Confession back.) This is not just for Catholics. When the bombs fell, the monastery was protected and the residents never even got radiation sickness. They lived. You, too, can survive the coming storms, if you are prepared spiritually."

4/5 stars "Seers, Saints, Sages, and Scoundrels,"

By Rocky Racoon/ Vine Voice March 16, 2017

Format: Kindle Edition/Verified Purchase

"If you want to place a credibility barrier between your church, your religion, and the public, just try predicting an exact date for the end of the world. Evangelicals, New Agers, Catholics, and other Christians have done that for many years. In all fairness, it seems the apostles and/or disciples seemed to believe a Second Coming was imminent during their life times. When the date of expectation doesn't come to fruition, it can do two things: It can strengthen an urgent vigilance or destroy one's faith. That's why, right off the bat, that the expected event in the title "The Warning," (which, by the way, is far removed from "the end of the world") is flatly guessed wrong by author Bruce Cyr. He uses the clues of saints' writings, the Bible, church writings, biographies, historical texts, etc. to give us a plethora of evidence that the world seems like a sleeping cesspool waiting to be stirred and awoken.

Fortunately for me, I read the free preview, so I was absorbed enough in his development and logic to give the rest of the book a try. What I found is that he is lucid and logical for giving ample insight for the past and the present--even if some of the future prognostications can be taken with a grain of salt. If you thumb through the bibliography following the text, you will find a cogent library of dozens of books he mentions along the way giving credence to the urgency of a world gone South in faith. The consequences and fruits of a world gone wayward can surely be seen, and his writing is a sobering magnifying glass, but one that is both logical and flawed.

Cross-referencing Bible passages, Marian apparition messages, saints' journals, and Pope's writings, we are indeed in trouble. Regardless of the time-frames mentioned, it is clear that man is heading to a collision course of recklessness that can't be sustained. Abandoning God yields bitter fruit in every era, but the suicidal tendencies that keep exacerbating during these latter days are real and alarming.

Of course faith is necessary to really be able to appreciate this book. Mostly based upon the correlations present during Fatima (exactly a century ago this year), Lourdes, Garabandal, and (most recently) Medjugorje, Our Lady, The Blessed Mother, Mary, Mother of Jesus has been giving dire warnings to mankind to reform, do penance, and pray for peace or else there will be consequences. As a pilgrim that has actually been to Lourdes and Medjugorje, I believe (and Pope Urban has allowed the benefit of faith for unconfirmed phenomena such as Medjugorje) there are tell-tale signs of a heavenly presence in those places. Consider then the aspect that The Blessed Mother has been present for over thirty years in the little village in Bosnia-Herzegovina, then one realizes how startling man's state of affairs is given the fact that she appeared merely six times during the halcyon period during 1917.

I don't do the book or the church justice if I don't counter my words with the concept that hope is instilled through all these church figures--or the author. It is not about gloom and doom. It is about fostering a faith that is the fruit of a Godly love life. It is recognizing we are only here a short time on earth, and we need to consummate a relationship with God. Jesus spoke about vigilance in many parables and sermons. It is just that we are too sleepy to see that we are imminently living in much more urgent times.

If for nothing else, I found facts about saints, Popes, historical times, and short biographies of the blessed, the terrible (like Hitler), the movers and changers (Martin Luther), to be historically lively and fascinating. Every age has its harvest. Fatima had three secrets that came to fruition, and now we are looking down the barrel of some treacherous tribulations (Ones that are meant to awaken, but need spiritual preparation.)

It is for these reasons, flaws and all, that I like the ultimate "love and logic" of 'After the Warning,' the perspective that no matter how dire matters get, God was/is/and always will be in charge of human affairs."

Comment: (Bruce Cyr author) "Thank You for an honest assessment."

By Ann Dasher March 16, 2017

“This book is interesting to read. It is an interpretation that is often ignored. I must admit when I first began reading it I wondered about the conclusions about which the author wrote however after reading the book I have come to the conclusion that it is a book that should be possessed and reread in the future. One drawback on the book is the fact that the same information is often repeated thereby bringing confusion at times to the readers.”

It confirms the prophecies and secrets revealed to the Catholic Church and shows how far the church has veered from God's plan. It allows people to see that our hope is in the One True God and that He is Love

Unfortunately, I am not so prepared with food. Much of what is in this book sounded familiar from the messages of Marian apparitions. It is scary. Although, Easter 2016 has passed, I still believe that this may happen. I wish my family would start taking this seriously. I will just continue to pray the rosary daily.”

The Mystery of Iniquity (Satan) is also revealed in a chronological order throughout this work. During this fifth Church age, God counteracts the Mystery of Iniquity, through Marian influence during her apparitions, appealing for prayer and other reparations, preventing the demise of the human race ."

"I'm only about half way through this book, but like many others have said....it's hard to put down. This writer shows guts by specifying dates. He will either be written off as another kook, or a modern day prophet. Some powerful things are going to happen this coming Easter, and several days leading up to this holy day. I ordered a food dehydrator, and a book explaining the process in case his predictions come to pass. Seriously, I'm trying to prepare a 3 month supply of dehydrated food for myself and my loved ones when all hell breaks loose."

“Reading this book on my Kindle and have already compiled a book of "notes". Yes the book is very scary. Has this book been sanctioned by the church, bishop etc, for its impact is great.. Author gives specific dates especially to 2038 and others but as another reviewer said all is to happen by 2017. So who's right? Only God knows. Yes, I'm praying for discernment, God knows I need it to prepare myself and family for the horrific events to come. God must really be PO'd and rightfully so with the craziness of the world. We just can't keep this pace up without Divine justice cleaning it up for I think its beyond mans ability anymore. I will definitely buy the paper book as soon as it's available in the US.

In 1993 I went to Medjugoria to renew my lost faith and was fortunate to hear a speech by Marjiana and met several times with Vicka. I was also in Vicka home which contained a great devotion to Mary. I also had my picture taken with my arm around her and felt levitated at that instant. She definitely has a special aura about her. I never heard the visionaries give any specific dates that I can remember. I shot 12 rolls of 36 film which have mysteriously disappeared since then. Devils work?? Thanks for listening to my winded review.”

The information in this book is very in touch with current events but I recommend discernment as you read. I found myself feeling stressed and afraid during parts. “I agree, Pamela. I'm an upbeat person, but when it comes to living off the land and defending my family and home against looters, terrorists, etc., I get depressed. I acknowledge that I am soft and unprepared, but also, if I were to prepare as the book says (food, water, seeds, medicine, etc.), I would have to spend several thousand dollars right now to prepare for four people for about a year. I can only speak for myself, but I cannot do that if I am not sure that this will happen. I will pray for an answer. I do not know how Middle Easterners live like this. My heart goes out to them. “Pamela, trust in God and in Jesus' mercy! Read the Dairy of St. Faustina which speaks constantly of the need to pray the Rosary and the Chaplet of Divine Mercy! Fear comes from satan so when you feel fear PRAY! I would also highly recommend doing the 33 day Consecration to Mary through Jesus by St. Louis de Monfort! We have no control over the things being done and legalized in our country and you may feel helpless but we, as Catholic Christians, can do the most important thing, that is to attend Holy Mass as often as we can, go to Confession to receive many graces and to PRAY at all times for the conversion of sinners. God is so merciful and never doubt the powerful intercession of our Mother Mary! She has worked miracles in my life and many prayers were answered by Her intercession. Also, pray to the Saints they walked before us and persevered to the end! They endured martyrdom by the grace of God! So please don't worry or fear things of the future, only God knows what is going to happen and aren't we all His children? He won't leave us it is us who have left Him.”

“I personally do not like giving years, especially dates when such and such will happen, unless it is almost certain. The author says to have the gift of prophecy. Based on statements by St Bridget of Sweden, and Blessed. Bartholomew Holzhauser he starts dividing Church Ages, and says we are currently in the fifth Church Age. From their he adds what the Catholic Church has accepted as private revelations, and soon connects them to Garabandal, Medjuorgje, Pedro Regis and probably a few others. The date for the warning and the miracle seem plausible, but certainly not set in stone. I've read of other saints possible, such as St. Stanislaus in 2019 for the miracle (a polish priest, as was Pope JP2). Then the Church goes through an age of peace (Sixth Church Age). Finally the Seventh Church Age begins with the Antichrist followed by the conversion of the Jews. An excellent book, especially to keep one from thinking to much of the end of the world, as opposed to what's happening and Church Ages.”

1/5 stars “Too uncritical of the sources”

By Amazon Customer May 6, 2017

Format: Kindle Edition/Verified Purchase

“Very uncritically citing approved and non- approved sources such as Medjugorje which is currently on the verge of being condemned by the church. Also it is unclear when the writer states his own view or citing sources”

Comment: (Bruce Cyr- author) The result of the work of the apparitions on Medjugorje starting in 2010 by Pope Benedict XVI and presided over by Cardinal Camillo Ruini has just been released. Pope Francis stated positively, "A commission of good theologians, bishops, cardinals. Well done, well done, well done. The report... is very, very good." The report states: "The commission noted a very clear difference between the beginning of the phenomenon and its following development, and therefore decided to issue two distinct votes on the two different phases: the first seven presumed appearances between June 24 and July 3, 1981, and all that happened later. Members and experts came out with 13 votes (out of 14) in favour of recognizing the supernatural nature of the first visions. A member voted against and an expert expressed a suspensive vote. The committee argues that the six young seers were psychically normal and were caught by surprise by the apparition, and that nothing of what they had seen was influenced by either the Franciscans of the parish or any other subjects. They showed resistance in telling what happened despite the police arrested them and death threatening them. The commission also rejected the hypothesis of a demonic origin of the apparitions." (This is quoted from lastampa.it site) This is good news confirming part of the truth, finally emerging from the Medjugorje apparitions after 35 years.

Also lately, the Vatican has sent, "Polish Archbishop Henryk Hoser, who the Pope appointed to serve as apostolic envoy or administrator at Medjugorje, and who spoke in a more positive way of the enormous “fruits” from the site, especially its more than forty confessionals, its countless conversions, especially among young, and the hundreds of priestly vocations it has produced." Archbishop Hoser said after a week there. “And you can say to the whole world that in Medjugorje, there is a light... we need these spots of light in today’s world that is going down into darkness.”

“Poorly written. I also read that it may have been partially plagiarized, which kind of blows his credibility. His message is scary, but what he says is definitely worth regarding.”

Comment: (from Bruce Cyr)

“This book is quite well written according to other reviews. It does repeat similar prophecies from various visionaries to give credibility to the 10 events that will unfold. Mary, mother of Jesus repeats many of her admonitions to the Church. This is not new in Marian prophecies. In regards to an accusation to plagiarized information: I have never read that particular author's books. All of the information, I used, is available through books written by priests and other credible researchers that have given credibility to these events, listed on 30 pages in bibliography and acknowledgements in the back of the book. I have been led by the Holy Spirit to understand some of the sequences of the events unfolding and hopefully I have placed these events in a chronological order. No one owns the prophecies given to us by the Holy Spirit in the Catholic Church. Words of the future are given to us by God and God alone, free of charge. Authors reading the same information in research may come to the same conclusions. ”

“It started out very interesting, but after chapter 40 is got rather repeating and that got boring”

Comment: (from Bruce Cyr)

“There are 10 secrets or events expected to unfold over the coming years, some that are dire. To give credibility to each event, the same or similar scenario is seen by different visionaries that give credibility to the event. That may seem boring to read and chapters 40 and 41 are not easy reading, in fact, it is some of the most difficult scenarios to accept. Chapter 42 moves into understanding how God is going to bring chastisements to mankind starting in the very late 2020s and early 2030s that visionaries have seen. That does not sound boring to me.”

Like the information on the new world order but too much based upon the Garabandal Spain Marian apparition which unfortunately is a satanic distraction which has never been approved by the Church. Garabandal and Medugorge are both satanic distractions from the true apparitions of Fatima and Akita. I believe the messages given at Akita are essentially the third secret of Fatima. By Adrian P. Quinn February 29, 2016

“This man appears to have plagiarized the work of Ron Conte Jr. significantly. He seems to be using Conte's work in order to make money. This is a very disrespectful and low action. In effect, it is stealing. People should stay clear of this work and go to the person who actually put in the work to obtain the information. You can find the original author at [...]. I am not endorsing the work as authentic. I am merely pointing out that Bruce Cyr is stealing the work of another in creating this book for money. At no time does he reference Conte and yet the dates and ideas are identical.”

Comment: (from Bruce Cyr) As I have said before, I have not bought any of Mr. Ron Conte Jr's books nor have I read them. I have used information from many credible sources; and there are more that I did not use as credible sources. These incredible prophecies belong to the Roman Catholic (mother) Church and are free to be read and interpreted as we discern, as long as it does not go against Faith and Morals. Mr. Ron Conte Jr. is not the “original author” of these events, the Holy Spirit is.

There are many other authors who have written on these events and pertinent subject matter that are well worth reading that I have used as credible sources. They are footnote-numbered on each page and are listed in the back of this book in the “Bibliography” and in “Acknowledgements and References.” Authors reading the same information in research may come to the same or similar conclusions. ”

“It's a little over the edge. It starts well and then gets less believable three-quarters of the way into the book.”

“The author's philosophical references are wrong in many cases, Pascal was a defender of the faith and devout Catholic (see Peter Kreeft "Pensees of Pascal").

He skips the powerfully evil influence of Nietzsche, and ignored the War in the Pacific in WWII. He presumes to extend and add to approved interpretations of apparitions by the Popes. Overall fear mongering. He did get "pray, pray, pray", and say the Rosary correct.”

“No one really seems to know who this author is. The book is thought provoking but at times seems to contradict itself . The authors claims are very different then the usual claims we hear in regard to the rapture and the end of days as we know it”

Comment: (from Bruce Cyr) I am the author and this is my real name. I live in southern Alberta in Canada. If you want to know more about me just click on my name on the catalogue page. Also if you go to my web site of the same name as the title of the book and add .com , you can email me on my web site if you have other questions.

“Excellent Reading. Prepare for a future that does not look safe. Pray pray pray. Not really sure if all described in book & dates are accurate. But a lot of it is correct & will happen at some point soon (5 years or less). Stay Close to God ALWAYS!”
